

A Comparative Analysis of Building Energy Efficiency Policies For New Buildings

The GBPN
February 2013

The GBPN has published the first objective criteria for comparing best approaches to energy efficiency building codes. The criteria, developed by experts and based on examples from around the world, are classified in an easy on-line tool designed to promote adoption of ambitious dynamic codes within a strong policy framework.